Notice to Buyer: Exclusion of Warranties and Limitations of Damages.

Seed bearing authorized Indiana Certification labels have only met the minimum requirements outlined in the “Indiana Seed Certification Standards Handbook.”

Seed Certification relies upon samples and records provided by member/applicants which are beyond the control of the certifying agency, the Indiana Crop Improvement Association.

Therefore, the Indiana Crop Improvement Association makes no warranties, express or implied, including warranty of merchantability, or fitness for a particular purpose concerning certified seed and hereby expressly disclaims the same.

In no event shall the Indiana Crop Improvement Association be responsible for damages, actual, incidental or consequential, regarding certified seed provided by applicant/members and/or vendors.

SOURCES OF CERTIFIED SEED

The growers with listings of certified seed in this directory have only applied for certification of their seed. Final certification will not be completed until cleaned samples have been laboratory inspected and approved by Certification.

SEED CERTIFICATION
Seed is CERTIFIED by the Indiana Crop Improvement Association after field and laboratory inspections have been completed according to the standards and rules for certification as approved by the Purdue University Office of Agricultural Research Programs under the law governing seed certification in Indiana.

All purchases of certified seed are to be made directly from growers listed in this directory and it is the growers responsibility to supply seed representative of the seed submitted and approved for certification by the Certification Office. It is recommended that the buyer examine the seed and the analysis tag for all seed purchased. ALL SEED SOLD AS CERTIFIED SEED MUST HAVE AN OFFICIAL CERTIFIED TAG ATTACHED OR IT IS NOT CERTIFIED. The Association does not guarantee seed purchased; however, seed purchased or delivered not meeting certification standards should be brought to the attention of the Association.

VARIETIES ELIGIBLE FOR CERTIFICATION IN INDIANA
All crop varieties certified annually by the association are listed and described in the Summer and Winter editions of the Indiana Seed Directory. As new varieties are released and older varieties fade from the scene, the total list of eligible varieties becomes rather long and somewhat meaningless. Any questions relating to the eligibility of a specific crop variety for certification should be directed to the Indiana Crop Improvement Association. A complete list of all varieties certified in recent years is maintained.

PLANT VARIETY PROTECTION ACT

The developer of a new distinct variety may obtain protection (essentially a patent) for that variety if he chooses to do so, provided the variety meets the requirements of the Plant Variety Protection Act of 1970 and amended 1994. Two options for plant variety protection are available to the developer of the variety.

Under the first option, the developer of the variety or his agent may sell either certified or non-certified seed of the variety. If the developer of the variety has reason to believe that anyone is infringing on his rights, he may resort to civil action.

The other option (“certification option”) for protecting a variety utilizes the provisions of Title V of the Federal Seed Act. A variety protected in this manner may be sold by variety name only as a class of certified seed.

It is the responsibility of the seller to inform the buyer if the variety is protected. Each container of seed sold should be labeled with a tag indicating the type of protection for which the owner has applied. Under the first option, the label will state: “Unauthorized Propagation Prohibited - U.S. Protected Variety.”

Under the certification option, the label will state: “Unauthorized Propagation Prohibited - TO BE SOLD BY VARIETY NAME ONLY AS A CLASS OF CERTIFIED SEED - U.S. Protected Variety.”

In Indiana, the proper statement is preprinted directly on the face of every certified seed tag used on seed of varieties protected under the “certification option.”

Indiana Crop Improvement Association’s Quality Assurance (QA) program provides a uniform, unbiased quality control system & marketing tool for crop seed marketed as brands, varieties or hybrids not using traditional certification.

The QA program adds significant value to seed programs by maintaining product purity & identity and is readily customized to meet the needs of the customer.

ICIA’s Identity Preserved™ (IP) Program complies with the general IP guidelines for certified products adopted and maintained by the Association of Official Seed Certifying Agencies (AOSCA).

The key to this program is the flexibility to develop a plan to fit the exact needs of the customer.

NOTICE

ELIGIBILITY FOR CERTIFICATION WILL DEPEND ON A SATISFACTORY FIELD INSPECTION.

REGISTERED SEED*

Registered seed production is one generation from Foundation seed; this seed classification is eligible for the production of Certified seed.

CERTIFIED SEED

Certified seed production is one generation from Registered seed. Certified seed is not eligible for recertification, with the exception of older varieties for which Foundation seed is not being maintained.

*Many varieties utilize only the Foundation and Certified classes of seed. The descriptions listed in this directory detail this information by variety.

IMPORTANT

For several years, the Indiana Crop Improvement Association has attempted to provide a list of crop varieties protected under the U.S. Plant Variety Protection Act.

As more and more varieties are developed and protected, it becomes nearly impossible for us to include a list which would cover all varieties of all crops under protection in the U.S.

Therefore, the list we provide will specifically include:

1) Those varieties of crops protected under the Title V (certification option) that are being produced in Indiana and
2) Those varieties that are protected without Title V (certification option) that are being certified in Indiana.

We are not listing protected varieties that do not use certification in Indiana, nor some that are protected under Title V (certification option) that are not being produced in Indiana.

A complete listing of all protected varieties is available in the “Official Journal of the Plant Variety Protection Office” which may be obtained free upon request from:

Plant Variety Protection Office
1400 Independence Avenue, S.W., Rm. 4512 - South Bldg., Mail Stop 0274
Washington, DC 20250-0274
Phone: 202/260-8983  Fax: 202/260-8976

Following is the list of varieties we are providing using the above criteria:

ROVEY SEED COMPANY INC ...................................... 260/694-6814
1157 Rovey Avenue
Farmersville, IL 62533
There is a growing demand in North America for the use of certified noxious weed seed free forage and mulch as a preventative program to limit the spread of noxious weeds. This voluntary certification program is designed to assure that forage (hay, cubes and pellets) and mulch sold with proper certification identification meets minimum standards designed to limit the spread of noxious weeds. Buyers are provided assurance that forage and mulch certified through this program meets these minimum standards.

The Indiana Crop Improvement Association has been designated as the official Noxious Weed Seed Free Forage and Mulch Certification Agency in Indiana by the Director of Purdue Agricultural Research Programs in consultation with the Indiana State Chemist Office. Program standards comply with the Regional Weed Free Forage Certification Standards developed by the Regional Weed Free Forage Committee of the North American Weed Management Association. The Regional Weed Free Forage Committee has established minimum standards to allow uniform participation by states and provinces in the program. Forage and mulch certified under the ICIA certification program with proper certification markings attached will be eligible to be shipped into restricted areas in the United States and Canada where only forage and mulch certified under the Regional Forage Certification Standards can be used.

The following producers have applied for certification of noxious weed seed free forage and/or mulch as of September 1, 2013:

Native Grasses and Forbs Pre-Variety Certification

This voluntary certification program is designed to assure that the proper identity of native grasses and forbs reproductive material is maintained through all phases of production. The term “reproductive material” refers to all forms of reproductive material including seed, seedlings, cuttings, rooted cuttings, transplants or other forms.

Certification helps assure that any particular set of reproductive material is what is labeled. Certification does not guarantee the physiological quality of the material (e.g., germination rate of a seedlot). Certification also does not guarantee the performance of any given set of reproductive material. Purchasers will still need to match the appropriate species/seed source/variety to the intended planting site.

Source Identified Material (Yellow Tag) - Source identified material is comprised of the least selected germplasm and is considered to be relatively genetically diverse. Source identified material can be produced in natural stands or seed production fields where no selection or selective breeding of the parent population has been made.

The identified source (genetic origin) must be some definable geographic region from which the germplasm was first collected. The source may be relatively broad, resulting from a blend of more than one collection across a region, or it may be narrow, from a single collection location. The precision of the source claimed is the choice of the producers. However, the source must be accurately described. Collection sites are verified by certification agency personnel.
